

Old World Varietals from the New World

In the New World there is an increasing focus on planting grapes in climates & terroirs that echo their native landscapes. For Australia this means developing varietals from France, Italy and other Old World regions and showcasing them in a fresh, new light.

French varieties like Marsanne, Roussanne & Viognier thrive in the Rhone-like conditions of the Barossa Valley. Whereas, Italian Grape varieties like Sangiovese, Nebbiolo, Pinot Grigio & Arneis are flourishing in Beechworth, King Valley & the Adelaide Hills where warm days and cold nights emulate the climate of Central & Northern Italy.

The great appeal of these varietals is that they maintain good natural acidity and fine tannin in the face of our hot Australian climate. Dry and savoury with structure softened by the generosity of ripe Australian fruit, these are balanced and textural wines that come to life when paired with great produce.

These two pages are dedicated to a small collection of innovative New World wines that compliment Chef Tony Gibson's Modern Australian cuisine.
